Support Sought By Governor For 3 Vetoes

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney is moving quickly to soothe Republican lawmakers who threaten to help override a Romney veto for the first time.

In jeopardy are vetoes on a $4 million property tax exemption bill for disabled veterans and widows of veterans and a $1.2 million bill to reimburse seven colleges for extra costs due to unexpectedly high enrollments.

Those two vetoes plus the veto on a $4.5 million rent reimbursement plan for senior citizens will be acted upon in the one-day legislative session Dec. 9. Romney pleaded a lack of proper financial support when he turned down the three measures.

To help stop the prumblings of Republican legislators, Romney has scheduled separate meetings in the capitol next week with representatives of veteran's organizations and college officials. Romney and selected GOP lawmakers are to meet with college officials Monday and with vets Wednesday.

During these meetings Romney hopes to fashion an agreement under which the vetoes could be sustained in return for promises to push for new legislative action that might benefit the veterans and the colleges.

The meetings were arranged despite a statement by Romney Monday that a 70-minute caucus with 33 Republicans had produced "a good feeling" that the vetoes would be sustained. At this moment it appears Democrats could pick up the three Republican votes in the Senate and one in the House needed to override a veto for the first time during a Romney administration. But Romney hopes that prospect will be reversed during the meetings next week.

Swanky Princess Party Attended By Grocery Boy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon danced away Tuesday night on a transparent floor over a bubbling pool at a lavish farewell party attended by socialites, celebrities and Tommy Cole.

Although the royal British couple were the guests of honor, a good deal of attention was diverted to Tommy who was cheered as he arrived in his borrowed tux and slightly crooked bow tie.

Tommy, a shy grocery boy, looked somewhat bewildered by it all as many of the guests called him by name. His invitation was a reward for his honesty in returning a stray invitation to actress Elaine Stritch.

Miss Stritch inadvertently used the back of her invitation to prepare a grocery list last week. When Tommy returned it, she mentioned the incident to party hostess Sharran Douglas, who in turn invited the youth.

Tommy arrived with Miss Stritch and her escort, spent about 40 minutes inside at the bar and left. He apparently was not introduced to the royal couple.

Convicts Kill 3 In Menard Riot

MENARD, Ill. (UPI) — A tense stillness settled today within the brown sandstone walls of Menard Prison, where rioting convicts stabbed three guards to death and held others hostage at knifepoint for four desperate hours.

The prison, nestled on the bluff overlooking the Mississippi River, was turned into a house of bedlam and bloodshed Tuesday night in an apparently well-planned riot at the start of the evening meal.

It was the first riot here since a five-day outbreak of violence in 1952 which brought then Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson home from the presidential campaign trail. A former Stevenson aide, state safety director Ross W. Randolph, talked the final rebel prisoners into surrender Tuesday night and secured the release of two terrorized guards.

Prisoners Donate Blood
"They never said why they did it, but they treated us all right," said guard Albert Robling, one of the two held hostage in the prison kitchen.

Johnson Heads For Inflation, Romney Claims
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Gov. George Romney, charging the Johnson Administration with "phony economics," has called for taking economic decisions out of the White House to stave off "galloping inflation" and inevitable collapse of the U.S. economic system.

"The biggest inflationary force in America today is the government of the United States," Romney said. "The administration isn't politically stupid, just short sighted," he said. Speaking to the Republican Associates of San Diego County, Romney cited recent wage settlements in the steel and aluminum industries and the abortive aluminum price increase as prime examples of "arbitrary exercise of presidential power."

Not American Way
He also said that unless the people were put back in the economic driver's seat America's free economy would be destroyed along with American superiority in scientific and technological fields "on which our world leadership depends."

"Without our ever intending it, the powers granted to the president have put him in a position of life and death over our major industries," Romney said.

"But it's not in the national interest for the White House to impose price controls on the competitive market to try to avoid the consequences of its own inflationary collective bargaining, economic, monetary and fiscal policies," Romney said, presidential intervention in collective bargaining and industry-wide price setting was counter to American economic principles of "competition, voluntary cooperation, reward based on contribution and progress-sharing."

"Either the American econ-until the surrender at 8:15 p.m. CST. "I guess it's our job."

The other hostage guard, A. G. Bierman, appeared visibly shaken and was not anxious to talk with reporters about his experience.

In the aftermath of the riot, led by about two dozen men in the prison population of more than 2,500, several convicts volunteered to donate blood for the six guards who were wounded in the melee. Five of the six remained hospitalized today in critical condition.

The outbreak began in the dining room when one of the rioters hurled a Molotov cocktail at a guard tower. Bedlam broke out as guards rushed onto the floor and most of the prisoners scrambled to get out of the way.

Randolph Trusted
In the confusion, convicts fell upon the guards with homemade knives ground to a point on the floors of their cells.

Guard Lt. Lewis Paul was stabbed through the heart and died instantly. Guard Arthur Kisro died of his wounds two hours later in the prison hospital and guard George L. Wilson died an hour after that in a hospital at nearby Chester.

Randolph, former warden at Menard and current president of the American Wardens Association, arrived on the scene from a dedication at Vienna, Ill., of Illinois' new minimum security prison. A man respected by both sides, Randolph began to talk to the convicts.

"They seemed to trust me," he said later. "I promised them they wouldn't be hurt. I never made any promise that I didn't intend to keep. These are desperate men—men who have stabbed. They wanted to get something off their chest."

Coed, 22, Sets Herself Afire
WEST CHESTER, Pa. (UPI) — A pretty coed said to be disturbed because she broke the heart of her boy friend was in "grave" condition today with burns she inflicted by setting herself afire on her college campus.

Patricia Ann Conway, a 22-year-old junior from Phoenixville, Pa., poured gasoline on her clothing and set fire to herself Tuesday outside a building entrance at West Chester State College.

"I did it for the love of God," she screamed while in flames. Then she fell, gasping, "I am a Catholic."

"She had a few problems, mainly with a boyfriend," said Jack Owens, college dean of student affairs, who visited her hospital bedside. "She felt she had sinned in some way. She thought she had broken his heart."

Two horrified coeds yelled for help as they saw Miss Conway's clothing erupt in a ball of flames. A workman on roof nearby shouted "Somebody's on fire!"

David McKenty, an English professor, and the Rev. Warren A. Loesch of Harrisburg, Pa., who was visiting his daughter at the school ran and threw their coats on the burning girl. But the flames continued to burn until the dean of administration, Dr. Kenneth Widdel, put them out with a fire extinguisher.

Fatal Injection Baffles Pontiac Hospital Staff

PONTIAC (UPI) — Officials said today they were baffled by a revelation that a dose of ether was injected into three hospital patients, killing them.

Harry W. Whitlow, administrator of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, confirmed that ether was mixed with a powdered anesthetic and injected into the victims, two children and a mother of two, who were undergoing routine surgery.

The powder is supposed to be mixed with distilled water. Whitlow said he could not believe a trained hospital employee could mistake ether for water. Police sources said the bottle from which the lethal dose was taken was labeled "water."

They said someone apparently added ether to a bottle of distilled water and left it with water to be used for mixing anesthetic.

Charges Denied
Whitlow and David Pence, the hospital's attorney, denied they tried to conceal the mysterious nature of the deaths. The victims died within 24 hours last Thursday and Friday but authorities did not learn of their deaths until Monday when a newspaper reporter telephoned S. Jerome Bronson, Oakland County prosecutor.

"This office is aroused," Bronson said. "Somebody mixed ether in it (the water). We have to find out who."

"This happened last week and we didn't find out about it until a newspaper reporter called me. That's a heck (hell) of a thing. It makes the job of law enforcement more difficult."

Pence said he intentionally delayed reporting the mysterious nature of the deaths. But he said he planned to discuss it with Bronson Tuesday.

"There was no intention to conceal the facts," Pence said.

Others Unaffected
"I have talked to everybody who may have had anything to do with it, and we still do not know who mixed the drugs in this particular case," he said.

"I wouldn't say any one of them is lying. But you'd have to know it was wrong if you are mixing it in the anesthetic. Any trained person would know."

The manufacturer of the anesthetic said the drug would not mix with ether, and thus some of the solution in the bottle must have been water.

For this reason, the first patients to be injected with the solution would have received little ether, but as the water level dropped, each succeeding patient would have received more.

The solution was given to several patients Thursday. The first showed no ill effects. The second is in critical condition, and the next three, Kimberly Ann Brunell, 8, Mike Kethum, 13, and Lurea Covington, 24, all died.

Typhoon Misses Island Of Luzon
MANILA (UPI) — Typhoon Faye skirted the northern island of Luzon today and aimed her 160 m.p.h. winds at Formosa and Okinawa.

A late weather bulletin said the typhoon was located 320 miles southeast of Quezon Province and moving toward Formosa at 14 m.p.h.

Boys' Training Site Urged At Branch Prison

LANSING (UPI)—State law-makers Tuesday proposed converting Ionia State Hospital and Marquette Prison into boys' training facilities.

"The emphasis is on youth detention facilities, because that is where the present shortage exists," said Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"We are hoping that the menfree Marquette for use as a boys' training facility.

He said he has already discussed the possibility of transferring the prisoners with Gus Harrison, corrections director. He said Harrison believes the switch can be made.

Rep. Robert D. Mahoney, D-Detroit, chairman of the House Social Aid and Welfare Committee, said there was too much pressure on the existing boys' training school at Lansing.

"A drastic increase in capacity will enable the judges to evaluate each case on its merits," Mahoney said.

Switching the Ionia Hospital to a boys' training facility also would eliminate a major headache of the Mental Health Department. Ionia has been the scene of several suicides by inmates.

Rep. F. Charles Raap, Muskegon, chairman of the House Mental Health Committee, said his committee would hold public hearings Nov. 30 and Dec. 7 on converting Ionia State Hospital to a boys' training facility. Raap said Dr. Robert A. Kimich, director of the Mental Health Department, has stated the patients at Ionia can be given better treatment at other mental institutions.

He said a study currently is being made to see how quickly the patients can be transferred to other suitable facilities.

Rep. Mack Asks Tabulation From Deer Hunters

LANSING (UPI)—State Sen. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood, Tuesday proposed the conservation department list on all deer hunting licenses the kind of deer kill of a hunter the previous season.

Mack said he would offer his suggestion in the form of a bill to the legislature in January. Its purpose, he said, would be to get a more accurate picture of the actual deer kill in Michigan.

He said the license applicant would answer whether he hunted deer the previous year, the kind killed and the county the deer was taken.

Mack, who represents the western two-thirds of the Upper Peninsula, last week questioned the conservation department's method of tabulating the winter deer kill.

INDUSTRIAL FATALITIES
Factories in the U.S. were safer than ever in 1964, according to the Insurance Information Institute, as the rate of industrial fatalities dropped to an all-time low of 21 per 100,000 workers. The worst year in the past quarter century was 1940, when the rate was 35.8 per 100,000.

Voting Rights Act Rejected

By United Press International
Most of the opinion in which a U.S. court held a section of the 1965 Voting Rights Act to be unconstitutional is an assertion of the state's rights theory that the Congress has no power to regulate the qualifications of voters.

The three-judge court sits in Washington, D.C. It knocked out a provision of the act which would have enfranchised Puerto Ricans in New York who were literate in Spanish but not in English. A New York literacy test requires voters to read and to write English. The majority opinion written by U.S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff put the question this way:

"Whether the Congress has constitutional power to regulate by statute the qualifications of voters and to supersede the requirements prescribed by the states."

By a vote of 2 to 1, the court held that Congress did not possess such power and that the section of the act seeking to qualify Spanish speaking Puerto Ricans to vote in New York state was unconstitutional. Before the court could come to that decision, it was necessary for the judges to satisfy themselves that there was no racial or other prohibited discrimination involved in the enactment or administration of the New York literacy test.

It follows that a finding of discrimination involving the literacy test would have caused the court to sustain the disputed section of the act despite Article 1, Section 2, of the U.S. Constitution, which gave the states all power to regulate voter qualifications. Holtzoff's opinion cited this section and asserted:

"Traditionally and historically, the qualifications of voters have been invariable a matter regulated by the states. This subject is one over which the Congress has no power to legislate."

Traffic Safety Jaycees Project

GRAND LEDGE (UPI)—The Michigan Jaycees Auxiliary members in 135 state chapters are going to help their husbands in the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce traffic safety campaign, especially in the drive for motor vehicle inspection.

Mrs. Robert (Judy) Burnham, of Grand Ledge, said Tuesday the women have volunteered to do all they can to help the Jaycees make their motor vehicle inspection program a reality in 1966.

The Jaycees, who have been actively promoting compulsory periodic motor vehicle inspection for more than three years, have framed an inspection program for the state and are awaiting the outcome in the State Legislature of their bills.

The legislative proposal calls for state-owned and operated inspection stations in the lower half of the Lower Peninsula and state-licensed privately-owned stations in the rest of the state.

Ensign

H. Stanley Chisholm of Alma and Edwin Chisholm of Saginaw, while hunting in the Ensign area, stayed at the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Thomas Safford.

Glen and Larry Lundin of Ensign were successful on the opening day of the hunt by each bagging trophy rack bucks.

George Majestic shot a six inch spike horn buck while hunting near his home in Ensign.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Majestic and family of Huron, Ohio are visiting their relatives in the Ensign area. Victor Majestic arrived in the Upper Peninsula for the opening day of the deer hunt. Mrs. Majestic and children arrived Saturday by plane for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Yule Poem Poet Was Skeptic

"Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house,

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse."

With these lines begins the familiar poem, "A Visit from St. Nicholas." Today, this poem is a treasured part of the lore of Christmas, often quoted and published at the Yuletide season.

Surprisingly, the poet who created it was far from proud of his work.

A distinguished Biblical scholar and professor of divinity, Dr. Clement Clark Moore wrote the poem for the amusement of his children at Christmas in 1822. A visitor in the home at the time copied it and had it published a year later in the Troy, N. Y., Sentinel.

The poem appeared anonymously, because Dr. Moore felt that he, as a professor of divinity, should not be associated with such "undignified" work.

Hermansville

Gordon Barribeau of Milwaukee spent the weekend with his father Harvey Barribeau.

Delore LaCoursiere and son George of Detroit spent the past week hunting in the area. Val Urick of Argo, Ill., Steve Urick of Justice Lane, Ill., Richard Urick, Summit, Ill., Harry Urick, Argo, Ill., spent the past week at their cottage in the area.

Wilbert and Richard Samuel of Maywood, Ill. and Wes Mach of Maywood, Ill., spent the past week hunting in the Malacca Area.

Clinton Schwartz of Wynadotte, Mike Koepke and sons Robert and Tom of Grosse Ile, Bill Horvath of Ecorse, Ervin Kromrei of Southgate, Dick Hoelze of Detroit, Ray Krutseh and son Tom of Coldwater hunted in the area the past week at Porky Hill Lodge.

For more than 20 years, he refused to take credit for the poem. In 1844 the poem was published and for the first time credited to its creator, Clement Clark Moore.

No Spurs In Planes

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A framed plaque in the office of an aircraft company executive sets forth these rules published by the old Army Air Force about 1920:

1—Don't take the machine into the air unless you are satisfied it will fly.

2—Riding on the steps, wings or tail of the machine is prohibited.

3—Aviators will not wear spurs while flying.

Cows, Dinosaurs Parade:

NEW YORK (AP)—Underdog, new this year, is the 85th balloon in a parade of 39 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parades.

The TV cartoon character, canine equivalent of Superman, 63 feet 6 inches long and 34 feet 9 inches wide.

He'll be inflated with about $800 worth of nonflammable helium.

Bullwinkle the Moose, in the parade for the fifth year, and Donald Duck, in for the fourth, are the largest balloons in the parade—18 inches taller than Underdog.

Also in the two-and-a-half mile parade are Dino the Dinosaur, who first marched in 1963, Elsie the Cow, 1963, Linus the Lionhearted, 1964, and Popeye, 1957.

Each balloon costs as much as $20,000 to make and the helium to keep it 50 feet above the crowds runs from $750 to $1,500 for a single appearance. All the balloons are designed in Goodyear's head office in Akron and made in the company's Rockmart, Ga., plant. Underdog's skin is nylon fabric which weighs approximately one ounce per square yard. Underdog uses 700 yards. A synthetic rubber substance called neoprene covers the fabric inside and out. Three ounces of neoprene are applied to each square yard of fabric. The inside coat gives the balloon body and strength at the seams and acts as a sealer for the helium.

TEST FLIGHT—Underdog, the new balloon among the seven which will float in New York at the Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade this year, is first air-tested out in the country. The parade began in 1926 and in the first years, most of the balloons depicted comic strip characters. Today they generally come from TV cartoons.

The outside coat, applied in combination with a rubber-base paint, provides a skin to minimize abrasions if the balloon is blown against a building, flag pole or tree.

Painted, the big gas bag weighs approximately 250 pounds.

The hour-and-a-half-long parade also features floats, marching bands, marching units, and, of course, Santa Claus.

Security Detail Head Appointed

LANSING (UPI)—State Police trooper Jay Kennedy, who a year ago stopped an armed man from crashing the governor's office, has been elevated to the head of the four-man governor's security detail.

Kennedy, 33, arrested Charles English, a Miami businessman, who claimed he was sent to Lansing by former Vice President Richard Nixon to get Gov. George Romney to run for President.

English made his way into the governor's office and Kennedy grabbed him. The intruder had a gun in a brief case and a knife in his back pocket.

Kennedy received a State Police honorable mention award for his efforts. He has been on the governor's security detail for two years. He joined the State Police in 1954 and has since served in Warren and Traverse City.

He replaces trooper Richard Coleman as head of the security detail. Coleman resigned to take an executive position with Sutter Products Co. of Holly.

Hunters' Luck Runs Out; Pay $362 In Fines

Deer hunters are having poor luck keeping out of reach of Conservation officers of the Escanaba District, if recent reports on arrests and convictions are an indication.

Fourteen of those who failed to follow the straight and narrow pathway of the conservation game laws have been assessed fines and costs totaling $362, the Department reports.

Among the 14 are three Valiquette brothers, who were arrested in Cornell Township at 11:35 p. m. on Nov. 21 and charged with unlawful possession of a deer—a deer that had not been sealed.

John R. Valiquette, 21, of Gladstone Rte. 1, James V. Valiquette, 23, of 1419 N. 16th St., and Orvis M. Valiquette, 24, of 520 N. 18th St., pleaded guilty to the charge when arraigned in Justice Ross Davis' court at Gladstone on Monday. Each was ordered to pay fine and costs of $67.30.

A Delta County man and a downstate hunter became entangled with the law when Edwin A. Carlson, 43, of Bark River Rte. 1, allowed Robert J. Jacques, 28, of Washington, Mich., to use his deer seal. They were arrested on Nov. 20 and in Justice Davis' court they were ordered to pay fine and costs of $17.30 each.

Richard C. Johnson, 17, of 1029 N. 18th St., and Robert

L. LeVigne, 30, of 1615 Washington Ave., carried uncased guns in a car and were arrested by Conservation officers Nov. 21. They were assessed fines and costs of $17.30 each in Justice Davis' court.

Ronald J. Chouinard, 19, of Escanaba Rte. 1, arrested in Escanaba Township on Nov. 20, pleaded guilty to carrying a rifle in deer season without a license and paid a fine of $10 and costs of $7.30 on Monday.

Two men from Flint and a Delta County hunter were arrested in Cornell Township on Nov. 21 for carrying a loaded rifle in a car at night. They are:

Gary J. Sexton, 17, of Cornell Rte. 1, Lester J. LaCarte, 19, and Elton P. Barber, 27, both of Flint, entered pleas of guilty in Justice Davis' court and paid fines and costs of $17.30 each.

Guns in their automobile caused the arrest of three men—two from Delta County and one from Wisconsin—in Cornell Township on Nov. 18.

Gerald L. Seymour, 913 Sheridan Road, pleaded guilty to transporting a loaded gun in a car; Russell D. Taylor, 29, of Bark River Rte. 2, to transporting an uncased gun; and Lawrence C. Seymour, 37, Sheboygan, Wis., to transporting a loaded gun in an automobile. Each was ordered to pay a fine and costs of $17.30.

Call For Blood To Meet Quota

How many people are going to make a gift of life-giving blood to the Red Cross blood bank when the bloodmobile comes to Delta County Nov. 30?

That's a question to which the Red Cross would like the answer, because it would then know how much effort is needed to recruit additional donors.

The Red Cross bloodmobile needs more people who will commit themselves to an appointment to donate blood, for the convenience of those who donate and for the evaluation of recruitment, the Red Cross announced.

When over 50 per cent of the blood donations made at each visit of the bloodmobile are walk-ins (persons who have not made an appointment in advance) it is very difficult to anticipate beforehand how much more effort is needed to reach the goal, the Red Cross announced.

This form was to be distributed to the oldest child in each family. This group should be almost 100 per cent of the age to give blood, and deducting the 15 per cent who statistically would be unable to give blood for medical reasons, there would remain 2,550 persons asked to become donors.

If one-half of the remaining mothers were unable to give because of pregnancy within a year, there would still be 1,912 persons able to donate, the Red Cross has estimated.

The Red Cross is appealing for donors among persons who in the past have "let George do it" and may do so again unless they are persuaded to share the load.

The necessity is to make an appointment. There is the need for 30 new donors among the 295 units collected at each visit of the bloodmobile, so that the contributions will be shared "among the Georges," the Red Cross points out.

The current percentage of new donors is about 5 — between 10 and 15 persons each visit — and the result is that very few persons are doing the work for many. Within the Wisconsin - Upper Peninsula area there is an estimated 1,350 points of blood collected weekly to supply the needs of the hospitals within that area and for replacements outside that area for blood used by residents.

The unit will be at the James T. Jones School in Gladstone on Nov. 30 from 3 to 7 p. m. and in Escanaba at the First Presbyterian Church on Dec. 1 from 2:30 to 7:30 and on Dec. 2 from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

HUNGRY DAD

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Carl Ferree took his 3-year-old daughter with him to the grocery and the owner presented her with a banana.

"What do you say?" Ferree prompted the child.

"Give Daddy one, too," came the prompt reply.

Turkey And 'Blessings' Are Thanksgiving Theme

A day of thanksgiving will be observed on Thursday—a day memorable for the abundance of good food and the willingness of the American people to give thanks for their many blessings.

It was the Pilgrims, of course, who brought the day to America in their devotion to freedom, and to God. President Abraham Lincoln signed the first Thanksgiving Day proclamation more than 100 years ago.

Michigan's first official Thanksgiving came in 1824 when Territorial Gov. Lewis Cass issued a proclamation setting Dec. 7 as the date for the observance. Later the last Thursday in November was chosen.

The religious significance of Thanksgiving Day is being noted in the churches of the community, some with services on Thanksgiving Eve, and others on Thursday.

Other interest centers on Thursday feature attraction—Thanksgiving dinner.

Dinner For Two
Family reunions and get-togethers are the order of the day, and special attention is given for the dinner menu not only in the home but in nursing homes, hospitals, and even jails and other institutions.

"The cook tells me she is going to prepare a turkey dinner for the two prisoners we have here," said Undersheriff Joseph Hillawert at the Delta County Jail. "Pumpkin pie, too, and cranberries, and all the trimmings."

While there may be few who will want to count their blessings while "doing time" in the county jail, there are others who will of necessity have to spend the holiday in a hospital or a nursing home.

At St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba the traditional dinner will have many variations, because there are about 25 diets necessary to meet the needs requirements of the patients, said Sister Hilary, dietician.

"We will have our dinner at noon and between 250 and 300 meals will be served," she said.

Turkeys Too Late
The menu includes chicken broth with noodles, cream of asparagus soup, crackers, roast turkey with gravy and sage dressing, ham steak, whipped potatoes with gravy, candied sweet potatoes, garden peas, baked onion au gratin, fresh cranberry relish, assorted relishes, apple juice, pumpkin pie, lime sherbet, unsweetened apple quarters, custard, chocolate milk (all kinds from chocolate to skim), coffee, tea.

"And five kinds of bread, toast, and fruit," said Sister Hilary. The school children who are served hot lunch will have two holiday menus—at school today noon and at home on Thursday. The schools close tonight and will reopen Monday morning.

"We are having fried chicken," said Ted Breitenbach, food supervisor for the Escanaba Area Public Schools. "The surplus foods turkeys didn't get here in time for Thanksgiving, so we will have the chicken too and turkey for Christmas."

Diets For Elderly
The chicken comes to the schools as federal surplus foods—all 1,000 pounds of it was oven fried to serve 1,600 meals this noon. With the springers was served mashed potatoes, candied yams, buttered carrots, and peas, tea buns, and orange cake. The beverage is milk.

"For this luncheon the children in the grades pay 25 cents and the students in Junior and Senior high schools pay 35 cents," said Breitenbach.

There is no diet problem with feeding the youngsters in school—no special diet problem that is—but at the Pinecrest Medical Care Facility at Powers the question of diet is all-important.

"Because our people are elderly here, we have to think of their need for soft foods," said Mrs. Marion Petrie, second cook. "There are many special diets, of course, ranging from those for diabetics to salt-free foods."

Mrs. Lea Bagley is the food supervisor at Pinecrest and Mrs. Sophie Andrews is head cook. They and Mrs. Petrie will prepare dinner (with all of the diet variations) for 160 patients and 75 staff.

Dinner will be served at noon and will feature the traditional roast turkey and all the trimmings. The accompanying cranberry sauce will be strained and jellied—thus avoiding those sharp seeds and tough skins that older people find difficult eating.

Festive Meals
Residents of the Delta Nursing Home will enjoy a festive Thanksgiving dinner on Thursday featuring many of the traditional holiday favorites, announces Mrs. Deliah Peterson, operator of the home.

Headlining the menu will be turkey with dressing along with mashed potatoes, frozen peas, cranberries and glazed sweet potatoes. Cranberry juice will be served as an entree and residents will have their choice of tea, coffee or milk during their meal. Pumpkin pie with whipped cream will be served for dessert.

Mrs. Josephine Alko cook at the Delta Nursing Home plans the menus on a three-month revolving basis, with special preparations being made for holidays. For Thanksgiving this year, she will be preparing approximately 60 meals.

Over 200 residents and guests of the Bishop Noa Home in Escanaba will be served a traditional Thanksgiving Day dinner at noon on Thursday. Mrs. Blanche Hubert, cook, has announced the following menu of home baked foods which will be preceded by the serving of wine which is a specialty of the home on holidays. Turkey with dressing, mashed potatoes, sweet yams, gravy, garnished trays of hors d'oeuvres, fruit salad, hot rolls and a choice of pumpkin or minicemeat pie for dessert.

Each table will be centered with an arrangement of fresh fruit, part of the Thanksgiving theme which will be featured throughout the dining room. Mrs. Hubert will be assisted in the kitchen by Mrs. Agnes Deshambo and Rose Smith.

SINKING SOLONS
MANCHESTER, Tenn. (AP)—City officials have that sinking feeling.

Mayor C. V. Myers says the City Hall is unsafe for human use. Unless a new one can be built, he says, he will declare it hazardous and won't let people enter.

Myers says the roof sags about 10 inches. The building once was used for a livery stable and a service station.

Lights, Greens Will Brighten Holiday Street

The Escanaba business district will take on all the bright and shining aspects of "holiday street" with the gala opening of the Christmas shopping season marked by the arrival of Santa Claus and other festivities on Friday.

In preparation for the special Yuletide lighting the crews of the Escanaba electrical department began stringing lights and garlands of greens above the streets on Monday.

The holiday street decorations will combine strings of colored lights, the greens forming a canopy over the street, and large specially lighted decorations at intersections and elsewhere. The lighting project is co-sponsored by the City of Escanaba and the Chamber of Commerce.

The street decorations will extend on Ludington for more than the mile of shopping district and northward for a few blocks on Stephenson Ave.

Real Mistletoe Not In Demand

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—The mistletoe market, once a good source of Christmas spending money for Oklahoma farm boys, has just about faded out.

Oklahoma City wholesale florists say there is little demand for real mistletoe. Buyers prefer the artificial kind.

A spokesman for one wholesale house said his firm did not even stock live mistletoe any more. Demand has dwindled to nearly zero in the past five years, he said, although many retail florists still buy a few sprigs from farm youth organizations such as the Future Farmers of America.

Mistletoe is the state flower of Oklahoma and is abundant in the Sooner State, so abundant in fact that it is a nuisance to the state's hardwood timber industry.

Mistletoe, despite its historic connection with Christmas and its appeal to young lovers who enjoy the tradition of kissing under the mistletoe, is a parasite. It kills trees.

One Oklahoma City floral wholesaler said his firm once sold 200 or 250 pounds of mistletoe annually. They bought it from farm boys, and much of the harvest was exported to other states.

"I think it's just about out of style," he said. "You can get artificial mistletoe cheaper than you can climb a tree."

And the white berries on the artificial mistletoe don't fall off and stain rugs.

The tradition of kissing under the mistletoe probably will survive, he said, and the participants probably won't even notice that the mistletoe is made of plastic.

Work Resumed In Lansing On New Districting

LANSING (UPI)—The eight-man state Apportionment Commission was back at work today, with both Democrats and Republicans expected to submit new districting plans for consideration.

At the first real working session last Friday since the state Supreme Court ordered the commission reactivated, Republicans dropped a new Senate plan into the mill and Democrats countered with a slightly revised House plan. Each side was expected to at least submit one plan for districting the other house today.

The Commission has until Jan. 1 to come up with new districting plans for the 110 House and 38 Senate districts to replace or improve "the one man, one vote" plan adopted last year.

"I think we're getting somewhere now," said Commissioner Henry J. Dongillo of Fountain after the session last week.

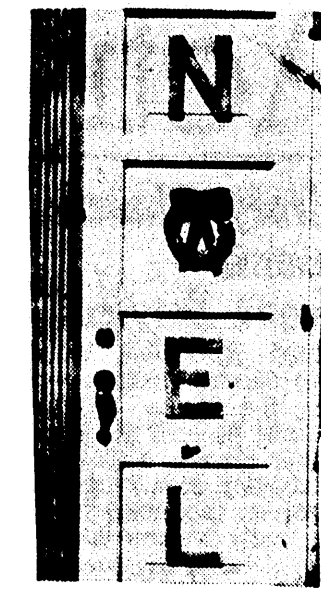

After both sides inched closer to agreeing on what standards to use in drawing new districts last week, state Supreme Court Justice Eugene F. Black issued a "supplementary opinion" Monday outlining what he feels are the guidelines intended by the court.

Apparently included were the so-called "anti-gerrymandering" standards that include requirements of compactness, regularity in shape, and adherence insofar as possible to local governmental boundary lines.

Republicans, bowing to U.S. Supreme Court edicts on apportionment, have agreed to use equal population as the prime goal in drawing new districts. The Senate plan they proposed had districts of more equal population than the present plan.

On the other hand, Democrats apparently have agreed to also consider boundary lines and district shape where they can. Their House plan straightened out some of the "kinks" in the current apportionment that Republicans charged were deliberately drawn to insure top-heavy Democratic majorities.

Both sides have also pledged not to use past election figures in drawing new maps, nor to consider where current legislators live. The new Republican Senate plan would pit 12 of the 38 senators now serving against each other; and the new Democratic House plan would put two representatives into the same district.

GREETINGS — Spell out a cheery "Noel" on your front door. Glue glitter-sprinkled green cotton batting to cardboard letters. For the "O", shape wreath from chicken wire and wrap with batting. Trim with red velvet bow and artificial holly leaves and berries.

Philip Norman Honored By Cub Pack 445

The Bark River Cub Scout Pack 445 held its regular meeting Monday evening in the Bark River-Harris Elementary School multipurpose room with a pot luck supper at 6:30 p. m.

Philip Norman, Cubmaster, was pleasantly surprised with a program of appreciation presented by the Cubs and Den Mothers. A 4-tiered cake made by den mother, Mrs. Rodger Quist, was decorated with "Thank You From Pack 445" and was done in white and gold. The centerpiece, by Mrs. Theodore Bash, Den II mother, was a pilgrim riding in a pumpkin coach drawn by two turkeys. Other decorations were also in the Thanksgiving motif.

The program included two songs by Den I: "Here's to You" and "How Do You Do" and twelve Cubs spelled the word "Appreciation" with a line for each letter. Readings "What is a Den Mother?" by Mrs. James Anderson and Mrs. Frank Adams and "Footprints" by Mrs. Bash and a Den II song completed the program. Present, were past and present den mothers, their families and Cub scouts and their parents.

After supper the meeting was opened and roll call was taken of the Cubs and parents by the Cubmaster. Den I claimed the attendance trophy, having the most parents present.

In accord with the theme of the month, "Achievement Parade" Cub Kris Erickson was advanced to Bear rank and Cub Joseph Knauf and James Bash were advanced to Lion rank by Cubmaster Norman and each new Lion was presented with a gold and silver arrow.

Arrangements for the December Pack meeting Christmas party were discussed and tentatively set for Tuesday, Dec. 21. The Cubmaster closed the meeting with a reading, "Definition of a Boy."

Bowden Resigns As UPCAP Chief In Control Shift

UPCAP yielded to demands from Washington on Monday to give voting memberships to the War on Poverty agencies it is working with and today UPCAP was without an executive director.

Dr. E. V. Bowden, executive director of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress for more than a year, today addressed a letter of resignation to all members of the UPCAP delegate body and the UPCAP Economic Development Committee of 40.

The resignation followed the meeting at which federal agencies and officials won a big voice in the operation of UPCAP, amid fears of U. P. county supervisors, expressed by Alex Goldade of Chippewa County, that "takeover" might result in the firing of Dr. Bowden, the supervisors' choice for director of their economic development agency.

Effective Jan. 15

Amid rumors that has succeeded already had been selected in Washington, Dr. Bowden beat any possible ouster move to the punch by resigning effective not later than Jan. 15.

His successor will be named by an UPCAP delegate body which was enlarged Monday from its original 14 representatives of the 14 U. P. county boards of supervisors which organized UPCAP in 1961, to include 4 representatives of the universities serving the U. P., 6 representatives of the 5 Community Action Agencies in the U. P. The CAAs and EDAs are War on Poverty agencies spending federal funds in the Upper Peninsula.

Bowden's letter of resignation states: The UPCAP meeting Nov. 22 marked the end of an era and the beginning of a new era in the nature and functions of UPCAP. In the era just ending I think I am the kind of man who should have been in the driver's seat. But the new UPCAP needs a different kind of executive director and it would neither be good for me nor for the organization for me to continue to hold this key office.

Congressman, Universities

"The new UPCAP needs to have all its members involved in the choice of the men who will fill the executive position. Only in this way can all the members of the expanded delegate body feel that they are properly represented in the person of the executive director."

"In the new UPCAP, the universities and Congressmen Cleveland will be intimately involved in and concerned about the directions and successes of UPCAP's programs. I am quite certain that my past relationships and experiences with some of these people have been such that it would be impossible for all these people to give their complete confidence and unrestricted support to UPCAP and its program so long as I am the person who fills the top executive position. The new executive director will need to be able to operate with the maximum cooperation and assistance from the college and university people and from the Congressmen, and with a minimum of restriction from these people."

To Write Report

"The Economic Development Administration has insisted that before I leave this position I write for them a report on the UPCAP project covering the entire period beginning with the time I first joined the organization and running through Nov. 30, 1965. I have agreed to do this."

"For me, this has been a tremendous experience. A small part of me will always remain with the Upper Peninsula and with UPCAP. After I am gone — and I haven't decided where to go yet — I will always be available to you for advice and consultation. . . in this challenging, exciting and clearly successful program."

THE MEETING in the State Office Building on Monday which brought the restructuring of UPCAP to include War on Poverty agency representatives, today brought the resignation of Dr. E. V. Bowden, executive director of the U. P. Committee on Area Progress, who said he thought his usefulness to the organization had passed. Principals in the change are pictured here at Monday's meeting, from left: Dr. Bowden, Robert Cochran, Washington, a special assistant to the director of the U. S. Department of Commerce, Economic Development Administration; and Congressman Raymond Clevenger, (D-Sault Ste. Marie). (Daily Press Photo)

Senior Citizens Hear Knutson

Guy W. Knutson, general manager of the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railway Co. spoke on the short line railroad at a meeting of the Senior Citizens Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce at the Chamber building Tuesday.

Knutson said that the short line railroads are dependent upon local products for their existence.

The E&LS, in its beginning, derived about 80% of its volume from wood products and this ratio has now changed to about 15% wood products and the rest of the volume is manufactured goods. This holds true with a great many of the short line railroads and Knutson said that there is a definite place for these railroads in the economy because they alone are able to give the type of service that is necessary for transporting some products.

Farm Bureau For Airport Project In Dec. 6 Vote

The Airport Study Committee was informed today that the Delta County Farm Bureau at its annual meeting Oct. 14 voted to endorse the committee's study. The Bureau agreed to support the 2 mill tax levy for one year for capital improvements at the airport.

William Clark Speaks To B & P W Club

Members of Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club, meeting Monday evening at the Sherman Hotel, heard William Clark talk on the need for a "Yes" vote on the Delta County Airport Proposal.

Mr. Clark, who is general manager of Marble Arms in Gladstone, has served for nine months on the Airport Study Committee which has made a thorough study of the physical needs for capital improvements at the airport. At the recommendation of the committee, the Delta County Board of Supervisors approved the program and agreed to offer it to the people of Delta County for approval.

The proposed improvements to be voted on Dec. 6 are a new terminal building, a parking area, apron and taxiway, a 1,500 foot runway to enable jets to land and a new road into the airport. Mr. Clark stated that the cost to the county will be approximately $150,000 but it will own a million dollar facility. The cost to the taxpayer will be 2 mills for one year or an average of $10 per family.

Mr. Clark pointed out that we must have adequate transportation if we want our area to grow. Local industry, which provides employment to residents throughout all of Delta County, has to have quick access to markets and sources of supply. In the discussion following Mr. Clark's talk, it was brought out that businessmen from all over the United States and the world fly into Escanaba both by commercial airline and chartered planes. Adequate, up-to-date facilities at the airport would help to create a more favorable impression of Delta County, it was stated.

Guests at last night's meeting were Judy Malinowski, Mary McDonough and Agnes Gleich. At the Christmas party on Dec. 7 Christmas collections will be given to the National Federation B&PW Foundation Fund for its research and scholarship program. The Personal Development Committee, consisting of Ruth Anderson, Angeline Hakes, Ruth Perring and Norma O'Brien was in charge of the program.

School District Study Near End

Moving toward reorganization of school districts in Delta and Schoolcraft counties under provisions of Act 289 of the Public Acts of 1964, meetings of special committees and of the two-county committee are scheduled, said Hagle Quarnstrom, superintendent of the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District.

Purpose of the reorganization as established under state law is to provide school districts a complete educational program, kindergarten through 12th grade.

Area studies were begun state-wide in the fall of 1964 following adoption of Act 289 by the Michigan legislature. One of the first actions was the naming of an 18-member committee to study and recommend redistricting.

There are nine school districts in Schoolcraft County and 11 in Delta County. Three in Delta and two in Schoolcraft are now without K through 12 programs.

Reorganization committees of the Intermediate District were formed for each county. The Delta reorganization committee is composed of Clarence Ray, Mrs. Clara Mosenfelder and Ralph McGeary. It will meet at the Gladstone High School on Nov. 29.

The Schoolcraft reorganization committee will meet on Nov. 30 at the Intermediate Office in the Lakeside School at Manistique. The committee is Mrs. Margaret Waters, Mrs. Margaret Cain and James Denman. Garden and Fairbanks school districts are included as part of the Schoolcraft study.

The reorganization committees will at their meetings complete their recommendations to be made to the 18-member two-county committee when it meets at Rapid River—a final meeting and hearing—on Dec. 7.

The area studies made beginning in the fall of 1964 included factors of transportation, finances, buildings, program and enrollment. Implications of these factors plus the guidelines established by the state committee for reorganization of school districts will be considerations in arriving at final recommendations.

The final recommendations arrived at by the two-county committee will be forwarded to the state committee for consideration. Approval by the state committee will be followed by a referendum on the redistricting in the affected areas.

Boys Strike, Rob Woman

An Escanaba woman was knocked to the sidewalk and robbed of her purse by two boys Tuesday night, she reported to police.

Officers said Mrs. Robert Dunford of 719 S. 2nd Ave., told them that she was walking in the 200 block of S. 9th St., when the incident occurred at 7:29 p. m.

She was on the east sidewalk, walking south when two boys (perhaps 12 to 14 years old) ran out of the alley toward her. One boy knocked her down and the other grabbed the purse she was carrying. Both then ran down the alley.

Mrs. Dunford said her purse contained about $12 in bills plus some change, and her name and address on a piece of paper.

She gave officers a description of the boys and the police investigation is continuing.

plan is rejected by the voters does not spell the end of the effort to comply with the state law.

Under the earlier law, school districts may be merged through the process of annexation or consolidation.

End result, however, will be to provide that no school district will exist without having a complete kindergarten through high school program.

Braves Are Beaten In Fourth Quarter

GLADSTONE — Coach Bill Wood's Gladstone Braves battled the towering Stephenson Eagles on even terms through three periods, leading most of the way before bowing to superior manpower by a 70-64 margin here Tuesday night.

Loss of Russ Sargent, leading Gladstone rebounder, early in the fourth quarter proved fatal to the Braves who were able to come up with nine points in the final frame. Stephenson tossed in 15.

The Braves hustled to a 20-19 lead in the first quarter and maintained the margin, 34-33, at halftime. Coach Guss Lord's Eagles knotted the score at 55-55 at the end of the third quarter.

Erv Kranberg carried the Eagles in the second half as the big forward pounded in seven field goals and a free throw for 15 points. Bruce Weng also found the range for 11 of his 13 points in the second half.

Gladstone displayed a balanced attack with four players reaching double scoring figures led by little Lynn LaPlant with 16 points. Mark Goodman tossed in 15, Dick Anderson 14 and Sargent tallied 11 before fouling out with six minutes to go in the game.

Stephenson had five players in double figures with Kranberg topping the list with 15 points.

The Braves hit on 27 of 68 shots from the field and added 10 of 17 from the free throw line. Stephenson shot at a 45 per cent pace from outcourt, hitting 31 of 68, and added 8 of 13 from the line.

Gladstone managed an even break on rebounds, each team pulling down 29.

The Braves won the jayvee preliminary game, 48-38.

Frigid Quarter Chills Rockets

RAPID RIVER—The Rapid River Rockets fell victim to their strange third quarter slump here last night and bowed to Negaunee St. Paul, 70-38.

Coach Bill McGovern's cagers matched the Emeralds point-for-point through the first half for a 26-26 deadlock. But in the third quarter the Rockets cooled off to only six points while St. Paul pumped in 26 to go ahead by a 52-32 margin. Rapid River tallied with 26 points in the finale but couldn't wipe out the big deficit.

Pat Larrabee and Greg Viau led Rapid River with 16 points apiece while Paul Meli topped the St. Paul scorers with 24. George Torreano used a deadly long-range setshot for six field goals and added four free throws for 16 points for the winners.

St. Paul also won the jayvee game, 39-32.

Inspired Music Hails Christmas

Across the centuries, man has looked to music to express his happy feelings at Christmas time.

From the medieval "Hail, Mary, full of grace" and "Moro-vele night, Josef" to the modern "White Christmas" and "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer", songs have been a favorite part of Christmas celebrations.

In the tradition of Christmas music, there are simple carols, blending reverent wonder with quiet joy — Martin Luther's "Away in a Manger," for instance, or the mid-nineteenth century hymns, "It Came upon a Midnight Clear," "We Three Kings of Orient Are" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

There are merry songs, celebrating the jolly mood of the Yuletide, such as the time-honored "Deck the Halls" or the modern "Rudolph" and "Frosty the Snowman."

Composers Inspired

Famous composers have found in Christmas inspiration for some of their most renowned music. At Christmas, and Easter, too, people gather to hear performances of Handel's "Messiah," Bach's Christmas Oratorio and Berlioz' "L'Enfance du Christ" are other examples of "serious" music often specially performed at Christmas.

Twentieth century composers, too, have written music around the Christmas themes. Probably the most familiar example is Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors," an opera commissioned for television and performed annually. Hon-eggers' "Christmas Cantata" and Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" are other notable examples.

To Honor St. Basil

Since the herald angels sang, bringing "glad tidings of great joy" to shepherds watching their flocks, the people of many lands have contributed to the history of Christmas hymns and carols.

In the fourth century, St. Basil the Great of Greece emerged victorious in his struggle for Christianity with the Byzantine Emperor Julian. To celebrate this victory, a musical poem or carol was sung in his honor.

The first day of the New Year is still celebrated as St. Basil's day in Greece, and children receive their "Christmas" gifts on that day.

In Tudor Times

In England during Tudor times, Christmas celebrations began on All Saints' Day, November 1, and continued until Candlemas, on February 2. "The Lord of Misrule" acted as master of ceremonies at the Yuletide festivities.

Much of the music for all this merrymaking was extemporaneous. Many songs were passed on by word of mouth from generation to generation — songs such as "The Boar's Head Carol," referring to the "boar" or pig which was traditional at the Yule feast, and "The First Nowell."

First in U. S.

First Christmas carol composed in the United States was the work of an 18th century leather worker named William Billings, reports The Book of Knowledge. A tanner by trade

'And On Earth ...'

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men with whom He is pleased."

This is how the latest version of the Bible translates Luke 2:14—a change from the familiar "and on earth peace, good will to men."

First Cards Sold

Christmas cards were first offered "to the trade" by an English publishing house in the 1860's. They carried such designs as jolly old gentlemen (who might have been Santa's foebears), plum puddings, holly and mistletoe.

but a tunesmith by inclination. Billings composed the carol, "A Virgin Unspotted."

The song isn't one that is still sung, and few hymnals now include it, but carol singers today owe William Billings a considerable debt of gratitude.

During Puritan times in England, the singing of carols and, indeed, the whole celebration of Christmas, was banned. The Puritan-minded American colonies followed suit.

It was William Billings, more than any other individual, who managed to persuade the Puritan New England settlers that singing songs at Christmas wasn't sinful.

Source of Song

Among the well-loved Christmas hymns is "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear." The words to this one were written by a Unitarian minister of Weston, Mass., named Edmund H. Sears, "Time" Just about a hundred years ago, says the Book of Knowledge.

One melody for this hymn was composed by a Detroit journalist and editor; another melody was adapted from an old British folk tune by a composer better known for his long string of light-hearted operetta hits. This was Sir Arthur Sullivan, of the team of Gilbert and Sullivan.

Unexplored Path

It is possible to have eyes fixed too firmly upon goals.

Measured against an ideal, present reality all too often strikes us as falling dismayingly short.

So it may be for Americans surveying their horizon on this Thanksgiving Day of 1965.

As individuals and as a nation we have set ourselves certain basic goals. We desire material well being, yes. And as a nation and for most of us as individuals we have achieved this in abundant measure.

But more than this, we seek for ourselves, and wish as much for others, an orderly life in an orderly world where each individual may share in a common heritage of freedom and dignity.

Yet we look out upon a world in which violence and uncertainty are inescapable reality. Abroad there is political dissension and military conflict of uncertain duration and outcome. At home, a crisis in human relations weighs upon the national conscience with no end yet in sight.

Troubled by this reality, many understandably may sense a falseness in the ring of cheery words customary at this season.

Unease is not unfounded. Yet that there is uncertainty in the future does not mean there is not also promise. That the goal is not attained does not mean there has not been progress toward it.

The present may be imperfect and the future in question. But progress is measured by distance traveled, not how far there is yet to go. And measured by where we were even a year ago, there has been progress.

Wasn't this how it all started, with that tiny band of pioneers in a hostile New World so many years ago? Not fearful concern at what must yet be done, but humble thanksgiving for what had been achieved.

Stores Are Ready

Escanaba's more than mile long shopping district on Ludington St. — most famed thoroughfare in the Upper Peninsula — is all set for the holiday shopping season which opens with bright lights and Christmas music, busv stores and special offerings on the day after Thanksgiving.

This year's holiday season in the shopping district will be unusually gay. The War in Viet Nam is the only saddening influence in the nation's observance of the holidays and even here the spirit of giving is felt and hundreds of packages cleared the local postoffices weeks ago for our men in the battle zones.

The Escanaba Area is unusually well set up for a Merry Christmas after a year of high employment and good business. Unemployment is lower than it has been in years. The Christmas Club payoff of the Delta County banks was $469,928 this year to add to the regular cash outflow for gift buying.

Dean Abbott, chairman of the Retail Division of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, said that with the local economy healthy and with store inventories at their peak, a very lively shopping season is in prospect.

Of shopping trends he said "Price is not the element in gift buying that it used to be. Style, No. 1, and quality, No. 2, take precedence over price, which ranks third in the reasons for choices in gifts."

"The trend toward the practical continues. Nationally, imports are bigger than ever before, but with the notable distinction that it is not the familiar cheap 'Made in Japan' type of thing, but quality goods from West Germany, France, Italy, England and even Spain. In the East the Japanese imports have decreased somewhat and those from Hong Kong have increased."

"People continue the trend to early shopping and they make this pre-Christmas season the biggest thing of the year in American stores. The National Retail Congress reports that department-type stores do 16.1 per cent of their year's business in December. This will vary with the individual stores and some local establishments will do as much as 22 per cent of their year's volume in December."

"Actually the Christmas shopping starts very early as indicated by purchases like 48 boxes of stationery in October. Sixteen to 20 per cent of a store's business is done in this pre-holiday season. October is the second largest sales month, with 8.9 per cent of the year's trade done in it, and November contributes 8.5 per cent. These three months together account for 33 per cent of the whole year's store business."

"And our fine stores are especially ready this year and hopeful of setting a new sales volume mark, which I am predicting."

The Doctor Says:

Transmissible To Man

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

We now know that many diseases in animals are transmissible to man ("zoonoses") and that the reverse is also true. This was not even suspected until, following the invention of the microscope, it was proved that germs are the cause of many diseases. In some instances, animals act as a reservoir of these infectious agents and, in others, man and animals alike succumb.

This fact has brought about a close kinship between physicians and veterinarians—especially those engaged in research. As new examples come to light the importance of this field of study increases. About 100 of these diseases are now recognized throughout the world, although not all of them occur in any one country.

The first zoonoses to be recognized as such were smallpox (it is the cowpox virus, not the smallpox virus, that is used in smallpox vaccine), anthrax and rabies. The latter, once thought to be restricted to man and dogs, is now known to infect a dozen or more animals including bats. These quickly added was tuberculosis, a disease found in caged birds, but they could never have been cattle that spend part of their time in barns and human beings who live in houses. Fresh air any medical profession.

A Thanksgiving Recipe

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 YEARS AGO

John Schwalbach, 511 N. 12th St., had his bicycle back after being without it since June 8. It was brought back from Shingleton near Manistique by State Police for the Delta County sheriff's office.

The second offering of the National Concert League season in William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium will present Ruth Gessner, Escanaba's own gifted concert pianist.

Mrs. Gessner received her musical education in Germany, and during the past season she appeared in concert in Duluth, Marquette and Iron Mountain and as guest soloist with the Orpheus Choir. Her selections will include Bach, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Debussy, Chopin and Liszt.

50 YEARS AGO

On Sunday night, about 9:25, the electric lights all over the city began to fade and at last threw the entire city in darkness. Upon investigation it was found that the trouble was caused by a short in the Escanaba river clogged in the big water wheels at the power dam so they could not turn.

The discovery of a human leg hidden in a brushpile at the side of an old logging road, a short distance west of Groos has aroused the interest of the residents of that district.

While putting storm window on the building owned by Henry Norman of Ludington St., Charles Johnson of this city fell from a ladder and sustained injuries to his body that will keep him confined to his home for several days.

Save The System?

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In a little-noticed talk awhile back, Rhode Island's Republican Gov. John Chafee said this:

"There is little future in the Republican party basing its plea for support upon cries of 'preserve the two-party system.'"

"Unless a party has something better to offer than that, it does not deserve to be supported. It can only receive support if it presents a better alternative to the party in office."

Snowmobile Trail Ready

MILWAUKEE — Two northern Wisconsin communities and the U.S. Forest Service have pioneered development of the first snowmobile trail in the United States.

The 100-mile round-trip route starts near Rhinelander and follows river beds, lake shores, and abandoned railroad right-of-ways. Skirting the east edge of Three Lakes, it leads into the Kimball Creek wildlife area, part of the Nicolet National Forest.

The main trail follows the route of the old Thunder Lake Logging Company railroad. Constructed in 1893, the narrow gauge line was the lifeblood of the northwoods logging operation for several decades.

Two shorter trails in the immediate Rhinelander area offer a wide choice of snowmobile facilities. Parking areas have been established at each trail entrance. Bulletin boards and maps outline the route for first-time visitors. Nearby resorts, once dependent on a three-month summer season, are planning year-round operation.

Several have snowmobile rental fleets available to guests. Although the trail was the brain child of just two men, it received enthusiastic support from every local and regional organization. The U.S. Forest Service, the Wisconsin Conservation Department participated in planning and discussion.

The Chambers of Commerce from both towns joined in, as did the service clubs, local companies and even the Boy Scouts.

The Rhinelander-Three Lakes trail is expected to be just the beginning of planned snowmobile trails throughout the snow belt. Under the government's "multipurpose" program for national and state forests, trail development could spread to Minnesota, Michigan and several Eastern states. Many Western states already have elaborate trail networks that can be utilized by snowmobile enthusiasts during the winter months.

Today, say some analysts, 200 or more of the 218 House seats required for a majority are "safely Democratic." Even if these judgments are overstated, the election record suggests that any big Democratic push—as in 1944—quickly produces a monumental disproportion for that party.

It has to be proved that great numbers of voters are really worried by such disproportions. Ten times since 1932, voters have given the Democrats U. S. House margins of 75 or more seats—including six times when the spread was more than 100. Today it is 154.

Not is there any comforting evidence that Americans use the two-party system in a kind of seesaw alternation that gives each party frequent control of the White House. In the first 75 years after the Civil War, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson were the only Democrats to break in on Republican rule. Since 1932, Dwight Eisenhower has been the sole Republican to reach the presidency.

U. S. voters have shown no sign of abandoning the two-party system. But much of the time they seem to use it in a way that provides little cheer for the party on the outside looking in.

Ann Landers

Errors Can Be Mighty Costly

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 13-year-old girl with a problem you have never heard of before. I have a boy friend who is also 13, very good-looking and nice. I get to see him in the evening about twice a week outside of seeing him every day at school.

Yesterday my girl friend (who is 14) asked me how I was getting along with Tom. When I told her "just fine" she asked if I had let him get to second base yet. I didn't want to seem dumb so I just smiled but I really don't know what second base means. She looked at me kind of funny and said, "I can tell by your answer that Tom is still at first base."

I hope you won't think this problem is too dumb to answer. I know the facts of life but I don't know what this base stuff is all about. Please smarten me up.—STUMPED IN STAMFORD

Dear Stumped: Maybe the bases are numbered differently in Stamford than they were in Iowa where I grew up. But no matter what the numbering system may be I strongly recommend that you get out of the line-up and stay on the bench for a couple years. Errors can be mighty costly. Toots.

Dear Ann Landers: The season for "worthy causes" is upon us and I am sick to death of it. Please tell us what to do when boxes of unordered merchandise come to the house.

A few years ago I was so heartbroken (and soft in the head, too) because I sent a "donation" for a couple of items—not that I needed them but because the charity sounded like a worthy one.

Is it true that once you get on a sucker list you are stuck because one outfit sells the names to another? I think it must be true because I've been deluged with junk from all sides.

I'm sick of paying postage to return stuff I didn't order. My neighbor says I do not have to return anything. My husband says I do.—FISH

Dear Fish: You need not return the merchandise. Don't use it, however. Throw it out.

Dear Ann Landers: My one and only precious daughter, Lila, has seven gorgeous children. She also has a devoted husband who is an excellent provider—something I never had.

I've always been self-supporting and still am. I had to go to work when Lila was a baby so I was denied the pleasure of staying at home and

Our phone rings at all hours. One night Bonita couldn't find her keys so she phoned Chuck at 2:00 A. M. and asked him to come over and break the basement window. (I think she was stiff.)

When her father died she asked Chuck to drive her to Mankato in the middle of a blizzard, and he did. He stayed up there for three days, said the roads were "impassable."

I've got four kids who need a father so don't tell me to kick him out. Chuck says there is nothing between them and that all she wants is a shoulder to cry on. What do you think? —ONLY HIS WIFE

Dear Wife: I think a father of four kids should keep both shoulders at home. Tell your husband to cut out the counseling. He should send her to the Family Service Association or the Y. M. C. A. They offer excellent services.

Dear Ann: A friend and I drove into a well-known drive-in for lunch. The boy took our orders and was back with the trays within a few minutes. My friend got what she ordered but I got a frankfurter and a malt instead of a cheeseburger and iced tea.

As I was explaining the error to the boy, a waitress came over and said, "That tray belongs to the other car." She took my tray off the window and brought me another tray from a car across the way.

When I saw that my sandwich had been unwrapped I simply could not eat it. I was too embarrassed to complain to the manager so I didn't have any lunch. Don't you think they should have brought me a fresh sandwich instead of one that had already been unwrapped?

My friend says I am crazy. What do you say? —AKKAN-SAS BEEF

Dear Beef: Some folks are more squeamish than others. This does not mean they are crazy.

If you didn't want the sandwich after it had been unwrapped you should have told the manager. I'm sure he would have seen to it that you received a fresh one.

Manger Scene Symbolizes Holy Night

Joyous Christmas Story Retold

"And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord made known to us. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger."—Luke 2: 15-16.

Thus, in the New Testament, Luke tells the story of humble shepherds watching in the fields—shepherds to whom the herald angels brought "good tidings of great joy," that they might seek and find the Infant Saviour. In still another Biblical account of the Nativity, Matthew writes of the Wise Men, who followed a Star to Bethlehem.

"And when they were come into the house, they saw the young Child with Mary His Mother, and fell down, and worshipped Him. And...they presented unto him gifts, gold and frankincense, and myrrh."—Matthew 2: 11

At Christmas, as Christians everywhere celebrate the birth of Christ in church and home devotions, the story of the Nativity is told and retold—but it never grows old. Always, the well-remembered words of two of his disciples, Matthew and Luke, seem to resound with renewed meaning and inspiration, bring to all some measure of that awe and wonder experienced by the shepherds and the wise men, long ago.

And now, as then, the supreme, the all-absorbing moment in the sacred story is that moment at the manger when first "they saw the young Child with Mary His mother."

In the miracle of the manger, in the Madonna and Child, mankind sees an ever-present reminder of the love of God, the glory and promise of Christmas. Each year, as Christians return in heart and spirit to Bethlehem and the manger, the joyous message lives anew. In cities, churches and homes, manger scenes symbolize once again the birth of a holy Child.

The treasured tradition of recreating the manger has a long and notable history. The first crèche or crib, scholars say, was erected by St. Francis of Assisi and his brethren, in the tiny Italian village of Greccio in 1223.

As the people of the town gathered about the manger, the first Christmas carols were sung—joyous songs in honor of the Saviour's birth. St. Francis felt that, through the manger scene and the cheery Christmas songs, even the humblest member of the congregation could participate more fully in the observance of Christmas.

Through the years, the meaning of the manger has been enriched by hundreds of thousands of reverent recreations.

Both craftsmen and artists have been inspired by the manger, and have shared their inspiration with many. The Madonna and Child appear again and again in countless famous paintings, and the Christmas crèche in miniature, created by the loving hands of skillful craftsmen, is a precious tradition in many lands, in many homes.

In song, too, "the young Child with Mary His mother" lives anew. Gathering around the manger scene, glad voices joyfully carol, "Silent Night, Holy Night! All is calm, all is bright, 'round yon Virgin Mother and Child..."

'Night Of Cakes'

In Ireland, Christmas Eve is often called the Night of Cakes. This name is based on the custom, still practiced, of baking special Christmas Eve cakes spiced with caraway seeds.

What Noel Means

"Noel," the French word for Christmas, means "birthday," "renew," or "a shout of joy."

Flowers Point Yule Beauty

Flowers burst into bloom and trees and shrubs were green with new leaves on the night of the Saviour's birth, so legend says. Down through the ages, certain flowers and greens have held an honored place in the lore of Christmas—the holly and the ivy, mistletoe, rosemary, the Christmas rose, the thorn tree.

Ancient peoples believed that mistletoe had powers to ward off evil or cure a variety of illnesses. Druid priests of Britain, long ago, believed that mistletoe should be cut with a golden knife, then hung over doorways as a protection from evil. The Greeks, too, used it to ward off evil.

One of many legends surrounding the poinsettia tells of a poor Mexican girl who, having no gift of value, humbly placed some roadside weeds at the foot of a statue representing the Virgin and Child. Instantly, the weeds became scarlet blossoms and thus, so the legend says, the poinsettia was created.

Rosemary, the symbol of constancy, was at one time widely used in England as a Christmas decoration. During the Victorian era, it lost popularity and is now seldom, if ever, seen as part of the Yuletide greenery.

An old story says that the fragrance of rosemary was given to it when Mary placed the Christ Child's garments on this shrub.

Like mistletoe, the brightly-berried holly was early credited with magical and medical powers. It could even, legend said, tell girls the name of their future husbands.

Practical Gift Idea Very Old

"Christmas is getting too commercial!"

This modern complaint, while it may have force, is somewhat lacking in originality.

"I hate the crafty arts of giving presents," said the witty Roman poet Martial, who lived and wrote from about 40 to 104 A.D. "Gifts are like hooks."

His complaint was expressed in a series of poems written for a wealthy patron, at the time of the Saturnalia, the pagan festival from which came many Christmas customs.

Martial, however, was not always averse to presents. After listing a large number of small gifts, such as toothpicks, figs, napkins, which had been delivered to him, he pointed out that it would have been much easier for the messenger to bring him "five pounds of silver plate."

County Shares Its Christmas

BURLINGAME, Calif. (UPI) —The North Pole has an effective workshop in San Mateo County, California, which for the past 11 years has ensured a Christmas for hundreds of impoverished children, elderly persons and prison inmates.

The Community Christmas Volunteer Bureau, located here, is operated by housewives and other volunteer helpers in co-operation with the county health and welfare agencies and the Marines Toys for Tots program.

Hundreds of housewives, teen-agers and businessmen donate their time each year to make sure youngsters from poor families have toys, and food on their tables Christmas day, said Mrs. Ron Schultz, who directs activities of the bureau.

"The community spirit is really heartwarming," said Mrs. Schultz, wife of a doctor. "Lots of people take time off from their own activities to help us."

"Last year the community's generosity provided more than 4,000 children with toys, 474 families with checks from $5 to $30, and 500 families with food and merchandise orders."

The Bureau also made Christmas a little less lonely for hundreds of elderly persons, who received cards, money or gifts they needed.

The Bureau acts as a coordinating agency between the welfare offices, which compile names and needs of families and individuals in the county, and the civic organizations and individuals who want to help in some way.

The Bureau is part of a year-round Volunteer Bureau which provides volunteer workers for child care agencies, clinics and hospitals, recreation agencies, health and educational services.

GOOD APPETITES?

Most adults in the United States ate from one-fourth to one-half their weight in food fats and oils—more than 47 pounds per person—during 1964, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

EARLY READING GLASSES

Reading glasses, made by inserting a magnifying glass in a frame, were used by the Chinese as early as the 10th century, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Fads Abound, But Evergreen Is THE Yule Tree

In Christmas trees, it's the spirit that counts.

Almost anything can be — and is — a Christmas tree. In Minneapolis, they even made a tree out of water pipes, fastened like spokes to a telephone pole, and appropriately decorated.

In Wilmington, N.C., a live oak more than 300 years old is adorned as the Yuletide with colorful ornaments and electric lights. In Indianapolis, Ind., they decorate the 246-foot Soldiers and Sailors Monument with electric candles and stars.

The U.S. National Christmas Tree, officially designated in 1926, is not an evergreen but a giant redwood, located in Kings Canyon National Park, Calif.

This unusual Christmas tree, called the "General Grant," is 3,500 years old.

Many families prefer the "permanent" Christmas tree, often made of aluminum.

Despite all this, the time-tested favorite tree is still the evergreen. Most people, if asked, would probably vote for the "fir tree."

Actually, there are nearly 40 species of the popular fir tree, found in the mountainous regions of Central and Southern Europe, Asia north of the Himalayas and North America.

A frequently-seen Christmas tree variety is the "balsam fir," also called "Canada balsam" or "Balm of Gilead," according to the Encyclopaedia Americana. This is one of the most common trees of eastern North America, extending from Virginia and West Virginia in the United States to Labrador and Newfoundland.

The balsam fir may grow to 40 or 50 feet tall. The southern fir is of about the same height and is found in the mountains of Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee.

Other American firs are essentially Western. They include the Pacific silver fir, the white fir, the grand fir, the Alpine fir, and red fir, the Shasta red fir and the noble fir. These firs may attain 250 feet in height.

In Canada, the exporting of Christmas trees, including firs, pine and spruce, is important business. Seven provinces export trees, to countries as far away as Venezuela.

Among American Indians, oldsters masked themselves and children had to buy them off with gifts of tobacco.

TV Channels Spawns Toys, Games

NEW YORK — (NEA) — So you want to buy your son a replica of Fort Courage for Christmas because he thinks F troop is television's finest hour. And you want a Honey West doll for your daughter. Well, both things will be possible, but not until Christmas 1966.

Television, which alone has games to keep Santa's Workshop on a round-the-clock alert, is a quixotic medium. In all fields but one they work months and sometimes years ahead. But in the matter of marketing merchandise that spins off from a hit television series, the timing is all off.

One reason is that shows premiere in September. A network likes to be reasonably sure it has a hit on its hands before either manufacturing or licensing a manufacturer to put out toys based on the series. Another is that the annual Toy Fair in New York takes place in March. The timing does not jibe with television.

However, if your youngsters are big television fans, do not despair. Among the three networks there are nearly 1,000 items, ranging in price from $1 to $30, available for Christmas giving.

The most expensive item at $30, is CBS' electric model railroad replica of the Hooterville Cannonball, the train in Petticoat Junction. Two of ABC's most popular items are a Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea submarine explorer set and The Thing Bank, based on The Addams Family. When money is inserted in the bank's slot, the whole thing shudders, a lid pops open and a green hand slithers out to grab the money and disappear.

Over at NBC, Daniel Boone is the strong man with items like "Fess Parker Trail Blazer Play Tents from the Daniel Boone TV Show," hats, pennants, Daniel Boone sunglasses (just like Dan's never wore), sneakers (ditto), games, canteens, knives, hats, a fort, key rings, charm bracelets, lunch boxes, ring binders, wallets, pencil cases and knapsacks.

Games are perhaps the easiest item to develop from a television show. The Milton Bradley Co., pioneered in the field (their first was a Hopalong Cassidy game), and now has 22 games keyed to television shows in their catalogue.

The series on which the games are based are as divergent as The Man From U.N.C.L.E. and The Patty Duke Show. Jigsaw puzzles also are popular. You can put together your own Cartwright family, a seasoned toy business veteran from Bonanza, if you are so inclined. Or, you can get the double-faced 007 Jigsaw Puzzle, with one side a scene from the James Bond movie "Goldfinger," and the other side entirely the gold.

The Bond craze is one of the biggest. You can get everything from James Bond neckties and wrist watches to games for adults and children.

Toys always will be with us, but the game industry, even at Christmas time, was suffering until television came along.

Gifts For A King

In New Testament history, St. Matthew describes the first of all Christmas gifts — gold, frankincense and myrrh. After the wise men had knelt at the manger, he tells us, they opened their treasures to select these special offerings for the newborn Babe of Bethlehem.

To the modern mind, gold is instantly recognizable as a treasure, but the value of frankincense and myrrh is not so readily apparent. Actually, frankincense and myrrh were costly items in the time of Christ, and they are still costly.

Both are resins used in making incense, surviving to day at many a Christian altar.

As further evidence that frankincense and myrrh were precious treasures, worthy gifts for an Infant King, there is the old poem which expressed the ancient belief that "incense owns a diety nigh."

The expression "take a back seat" started in England, where those members of Parliament who belong to the majority party get the front seats and those in the minority are left with the "back seats."

Christmas Was Not Always A Merry Occasion

"Merry" Christmas? Not always, according to some ancient beliefs once associated with the day.

Take, for instance, the old belief that cattle and other stable animals were given the power of speech on Christmas Eve.

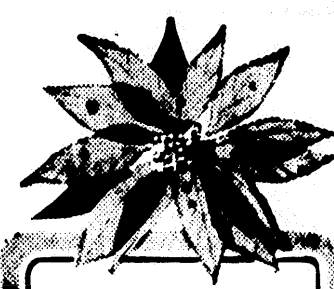

Any person who heard the animals speak would die within a year, so superstition said.

Somber omens of death were read into still other Yuletide legends. When the Yule log burned, bystanders were told to watch the shadows on the walls. If the shadows of any persons appeared to be headless, this supposedly meant death for those persons, again within a year.

Salt was also said to have the power of forecasting life or death, when used in connection with Christmas. The test could be made by leaving a small mound of salt on the table on Christmas Eve. If the salt melted during the night, that, too, meant death within 12 months.

If the salt remained unmelted, the forecast was for a long and healthy life.

There is no foolproof way for amateur mushroom hunters to tell edible from poisonous mushrooms.

Plant Wins Yule Favor

One plant particularly favored at Christmas in the United States and Canada is the poinsettia. The holiday colors of this green shrub with its star-shaped red clusters make it an appropriate symbol of the season.

If it had not been for the interest of an American diplomat, Dr. Joel Poinsett of Charleston, S. C., the poinsettia might never have attained popularity. Serving as the first U.S. minister in Mexico in 1824, Dr. Poinsett discovered this tropical plant. Impressed with its beauty, he brought it back to the United States and introduced it into cultivation. Later, the plant was named the "poinsettia" in his honor.

Albert Ecke, a California farmer, developed and improved the plant, and first marketed it in 1906. Since then, it has become a favorite Yuletide decoration.

Heligious Tidings Again

Merry Christmas Everywhere

"Merry Christmas!" In these two familiar words, often heard and often repeated, there lives and glows the meaning of the first of all Christmases, on that Holy Night nearly two thousand years ago. As the happy day approaches, this community, like many hundreds of thousands of other towns and cities around the world, proclaims the spirit of the season in ringing bells and happy carols, in gleaming lights and festive decorations.

Through all the celebrations — community, church, family — the simple words of greeting run like a glowing thread, weaving together into one joyous whole all the many glorious things that Christmas stands for. "Merry Christmas!" The words remind that Christ-familiar words? As a holy day and a holiday, Christmas means both festive merrymaking and prayerful worship, and both meanings are expressed in the traditional greeting, "Merry Christmas."

Christmas, commemorating the birth of Christ, derives its name from the medieval "Christes Masse," the mass of Christ. Yet, in the first centuries of the Christian church, there was no celebration of the birth of Christ, no Christmas.

The December festivals of those days were pagan in nature — the Roman Saturnalia in Southern Europe, the Yuletide festival of the winter solstice in Northern Europe.

When, in the fifth century A. D., Christmas began to be celebrated on December 25, the old customs of the pagan festivals were connected with the Christmas feast. The merrymaking continued, but it gained a deeper meaning, as pagan traditions were hallowed by association with the Nativity.

Thus Christmas became "Merry Christmas."

Sending Greetings

"Merry Christmas!" The custom of extending holiday greetings to friends undoubtedly goes back many years, but the Christmas card as a means of expressing those greetings is a relative newcomer to Christmas traditions.

Christmas cards had their beginning only 122 years ago in England, but despite the comparatively recent start, saying "Merry Christmas" in card form was a custom that quickly caught the public fancy.

The wish to say, "Merry Christmas" to friends and neighbors is strong, and the ways of expressing it are many. Today's edition of this newspaper, for instance, is one big "Merry Christmas" card, in which businessmen of this community offer special greetings and words of appreciation to their customers and friends.

About Trees

On the night Christ was born, legend says, all the trees burst into bloom. Thus began many stories about the Christmas tree.

Early folk tales described a huge tree in the midst of a forest. The tree held many candles, some straight, some upside down. At the top was an infant with a halo around his head.

It was believed that the tree represented humanity. The candles, up and down, symbolized people, good and bad. The infant was the Christ Child.

mas is traditionally a time of merriment, a time for family and friends to gather together. "Merry Christmas," we say, and with the words we seek to share our reverent wonder at the age-old story, our joy in ever-present blessings.

How Celebrations Began

"Merry Christmas!" The words are simple, familiar, even old-fashioned, yet they still contain a newness and freshness, a significance to thrill the heart of mankind.

Whence did they come, these

Christmas Tree Rustlers Get Walter's Goat

BUTZBACH, Germany (UPI) — Christmas tree rustlers are making a Scrooge out of Walter, the forest ranger.

"Stop talking to me about Christmas," he grumbled over his beer, "I'll be glad when it's all over."

Walter Beloff, 41, is stationed at the tree-ringed Forest House of this small Hessian town about 35 miles north of Frankfurt. A narrow road, winding through the woods, runs by the House, leading to tiny villages hidden in the Taunus Hills. It is a Christmas tree rustlers' path.

"Christmas, especially the weeks before Christmas, means plenty of work for us forest rangers," Walter complained.

"There are those thieves sneaking through the forest with their cars. They switch off the lights and cut those beautiful fir trees."

This is the time for Walter to hop on his motorcycle and make his nightly patrols, clad in his green uniform, shotgun dangling on his back.

"Boy," he said, "I have caught quite a few of those thieves. I guess about 40 in the five years I have been stationed here."

Civil Servant

As a forest ranger, Walter is a civil servant and also has police authority. The forest he is responsible for is state property as is the case with most German woods.

"I take down their names and the result is a 100-mark ($25) or more fine," said Walter, grinning. "Theft of state property is an expensive affair."

Walter is not afraid his nightly excursions can spell bodily harm for him even if he bumps into fir tree rustlers hostile to fines.

"I get along with them. I was on the Russian battle front for three years. You understand."

Walter the ranger also must supervise cutting some Christmas trees. More trouble.

"A few years ago, I used to have 20 woodcutters, now I'm down to three men. I must mark the trees for cutting which takes quite a lot of time."

WINNINGS DONATED
LOUISVILLE (AP) — During the annual collection for underprivileged children, the Buechel Fire Department went around from door-to-door in their community.

Part of the department's collection included three uncashed tickets from Churchill Downs race track. One ticket turned out to be a winner and $6.20 went into the fund.

Time To Remove Greens Debated

When is the right time to take down the Christmas greens? Before they become a fire hazard, is the modern belief, and that usually means soon after Christmas Day.

Some people believed that Epiphany, or Twelfth Day, January 6, was the proper time for removing all Christmas decorations. Others firmly contended that the greens should remain until Candlemas, February 2.

One of those favoring the later date was, apparently, the poet Robert Herrick, who lived from 1591 to 1633. He wrote of taking down the greens in his poem, "Ceremonies for Candlemas Eve," but warned that the greens must be completely removed.

"For look how many leaves there be Neglected there (maids, trust to me)
So many goblins you shall see."

Santa's Helpers Get Book Tips

CHICAGO (UPI) — Christmas shopping for children is one of the delights of the holiday season, but can also be a problem since children's interests change so rapidly.

Even children of the same age are often several years apart in interests. Unless you know the child very well, you only can shop for items of general interest.

To a large extent, youngsters still enjoy the same things their parents did. Girl detectives and boy adventurers are big in juvenile book circles.

In general, the tips advise buying a gift that is too old for a youngster rather than too young, if there is any doubt about its appeal. A child would rather grow up to a present than outgrow it quickly.

The grammar school set enjoys the challenge of colorful arithmetic and history games, workbooks, flashcards, maps and geography puzzles. Parents enjoy the educational value to the child of such toys.

The firm advises shoppers to remember that children are active and not passive. Winter months tend to be closed-in times, and a child wants to be challenged, busy and inspired. Low-cost play materials are often better than an expensive toy that just sits.

A child's talents, temperament and hobbies often determine the best present, but some general guidelines can be followed for various age groups, particularly in the field of books and puzzles.

Infants to one-year-olds like to have rhymes read to them. Regardless of whether they understand, the rhythm pleases them. Mother Goose is still a sure-fire hit, as she has been for over 200 years.

For active two-year-olds, there are tough cloth books, washable and durable, with big bright pictures of blocks and teddybears. These books can't go in the tub, but spilled cereal can be sponged off with soap and water.

Three-year-olds like bright objects that are easy to handle. Frame-tray puzzles with half-a-dozen pieces are popular.

Four-year-olds like punch-out books. These books provide action but don't need paste or scissors. There are animal characters to punch and stand up, funny hats to punch out and wear, and Christmas books with punch-out ornaments to hang or elves to dress.

The five-to-eight-year-old is game conscious and proud of his ability to follow rules. Spinner games, new "picture" bingo and other games that rely on color instead of on letters and numbers are the right approach.

Youngsters eight-to-twelve are capable with games such as checkers, chess, and backgammon. A game chest containing a number of versatile boards, spinners and rulebooks is a bonanza.

Pre-teens like books with large type and lively plots. Hobby books, coin collecting equipment, scrapbooks and dictionaries are also popular with this group.

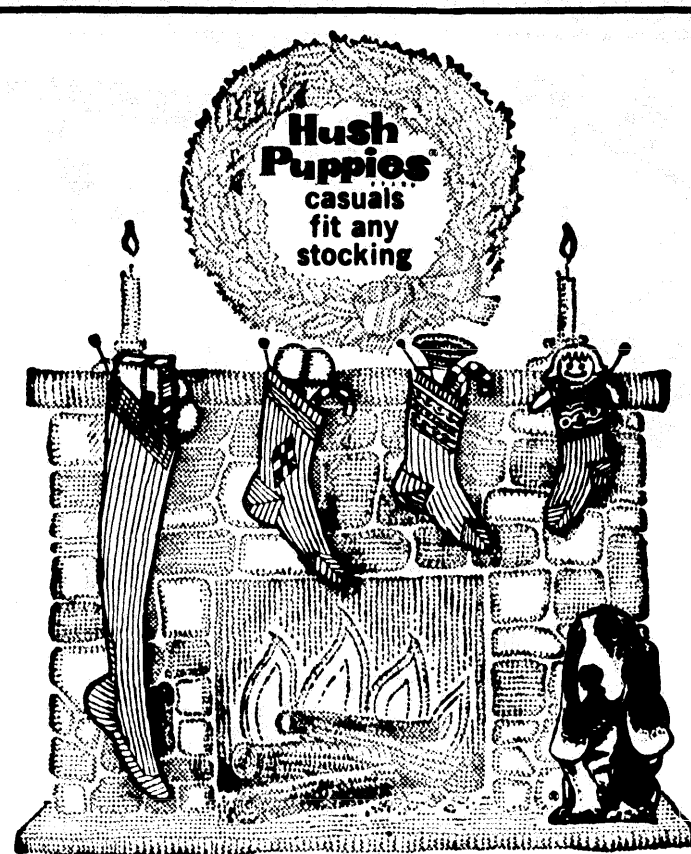

Teens prefer books about their own age groups and reprints of such spellbinders as H. G. Wells, Edgar Allan Poe, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Mark Twain and Jack London.

REINDEER ON LOAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam is loaning reindeer to Eskimos in Alaska.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs has agreed to ship 200 head from its Nunivak Island herd to three Eskimos who have leased grazing rights on Hagerman island in Bristol Bay.

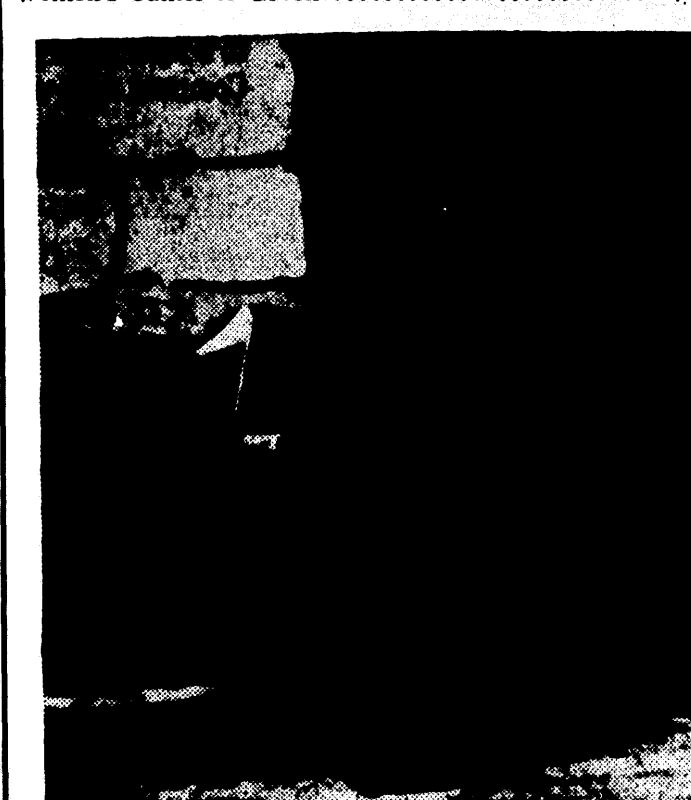

If the animals prosper and multiply, the loan will be repaid in the form of reindeer.

In a special television program on Thanksgiving Day, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will be discoursing on a subject dear to her heart. She'll demonstrate ideas of beautifying the city of Washington as a model for the rest of the country. Pictures here were taken during the filming.

Mrs. Johnson took a boat trip to show the potentials of the Potomac River.

"When it was planted it was only this big." She discusses trees, with Washington Monument in background.

Surrounded by the ABC crew, she describes the scene on the South Porch of the Treasury Building.
